

National Association for County
Community and Economic Development

Affiliate Membership

$500 Annually

Who is an affiliate member?

Entitlement cities, non-entitlement counties, urban county participating cities, towns, state and regional associations, coalitions of cities, quasi-governmental agencies, and nonprofits.

Benefits:

- Receive bi-weekly email newsletters from the NACCED staff in Washington, DC with the latest legislative and regulatory updates.
- Gain access to NACCED's national network of experienced local government housing and community development professionals.
- Attend NACCED's year-round trainings, conference, and other educational opportunities at a special discounted member rate.
- Receive access to resources from counties across the country with NACCED's online resource library.
- Learn from peers and shape national policy through NACCED's Committees focused on housing, community and economic development.
- Solicit applications for and view job postings from across the country.

Proud affiliate of NACo since 1978

The National Association for County Community and Economic Development (NACCED) is the premier organization empowering local governments to create thriving and sustainable communities.

NACCED builds generational capacity by providing education, resources, advocacy and peer support that strengthens local governments' ability to create sustainable communities and equitable economies, with safe and affordable housing.

What our Members are saying:

"The affiliate-level membership for cities is such an amazing value! We also appreciate getting NACCED's weekly emails with news, tools and trainings that help us enrich our programs and benefit our community!"

Program Manager, City of Vancouver, WA

"I learn so much from these meetings and I love hearing how everyone else is doing, how their programs are working, and the project successes."

Planner, St. Louis County, MN

CONTACT US

@NACCEDnews

NACCEDnews

info@naccded.org

(202) 367-1149